Announcement: Amendments on the Ballot	June 3 In response to several comments posted on several mail lists, and in an effort to make sure that the same information gets to all of the mail lists, please forward to all Project mail lists. In order for an amendment to be placed on the ballot for an upcoming election, the proposed amendment must be presented to one of the AB members and posted on the national USGenWeb Project site for at least 30 days

prior to the annual election period of 1-31 July. That means the amendment would have to have been composed and posted on the national site by 1 June 2010.

If there is an amendment that is posted prior to 1 June but does not have the required number of co-sponsors by 1 June, additional co-sponsors may be added until 15 June by notifying one of the AB representatives so that they can also be added as co-sponsors. The 15 June date is the same date that the nomination period ends for the National election. The Election Committee, at my request, has verified with Larry Stephens, who handles the election, that an amendment can be added to the ballot as long as he is notified of the additions to the ballot by that time.

For this election, the amendment proposed by WVGenWeb will be on the ballot because the required co-sponsors have been identified. The amendment proposed by DEGenWeb was posted on the national site before 1 June, but as of this date it has not gained the required co-sponsorships. If the required co-sponsors are identified by 15 June, that amendment will also be on this year's ballot. If the co-sponsors are not identified by 15 June, that amendment will not be on the ballot.

I hope this helps.

This breach of confidentiality is in direct violation of Section A, Subsection Qualifications, Paragraph 3 of the Grievance Committee Procedures voted into effect by the membership <http://gc.usgenweb.org/procedures.html>

"Because grievances are considered personnel matters, all volunteers must state that they are willing to abide by strict confidentiality requirements.

Volunteers must also state that they understand that violation of this confidentiality agreement will mean immediate expulsion from the Grievance Committee, and could result in determination of Member Not in Good Standing by the Advisory Board."

Ms. Siniard maintains the following USGenWeb member sites:

Announcement: Disciplinary Hearing Resolution - Fran Smith and Dennis Gries	June 19 The resolution of the disciplinary hearing against Fran Smith. This resolution is hereby adopted, effective Wednesday, 16 June 2010. The USGenWeb Advisory Board issues this finding in response to the charges brought against Ms. Smith relevant to Grievance 2009-08-15. Charge: Refusal to participate in good faith in the mediation and arbitration phases of grievance 2009-08-15, filed by Ms. Laverne Tornow against six individual FLGenWeb board members, as demonstrated by attempts to introduce issues outside of the scope of the mediation and arbitration portions of the grievance, raising repeated objections to questions posed by both the mediator and the arbitrators and refusing to answer specific questions posed by the grievance committee team and the insistence that the USGenWeb Project's Grievance Process was not the proper venue to handle a grievance, that all grievances must be filed in a court of law in the state of Florida. Finding: We find that the Grievance Committee reviewed concerns brought to the Committee by Ms. Smith and the Grievance Committee not only responded to each concern, but consulted the National Coordinator for clarification of procedures which state: "It shall be the responsibility of the parties to the dispute to raise the issue of bias or conflict by a member of the team. This shall be done privately to the mediator, or the committee member if the conflict is alleged against the mediator. All claims of bias or conflict must be raised prior to the beginning of the mediation process. If an objection should be raised to a team member, that member shall be dismissed and a new team member appointed without the necessity for any proof of bias or prejudice. The identity of the party raising the objection shall not be revealed to any team member. Once the team is seated and the process initiated, no further objection may be raised as to partiality, bias, or conflict, and a team mem!

ber may only be removed on his or her own request."

Evidence presented clearly demonstrated that Ms. Smith continued to make assertions that had previously been addressed within the confines of the above stated procedure and it was clearly demonstrated by presented evidence her actions to continue to dispute after the team began their work.

Charge: Repeated breaches of the confidentiality of the grievance, despite repeated warnings during both the mediation and arbitration phases of the grievance process by contacting those outside of the mediator, the arbitrators and the GC representative handling the grievance.

Finding: It is the Advisory Board's finding that multiple breaches occurred by multiple individuals party to this grievance and those breaches will be addressed by the Advisory Board separately.

Regardless of others' breaches of confidentiality, the evidence has clearly demonstrated that Ms. Smith mindfully and purposefully engaged in and originated confidentiality breaches and that her breaches were prohibited within the process and procedures where she was a named participant. In doing so, the process was compromised for all parties involved with the grievance.

Charge: Failure to reinstate Ms. Laverne Tornow to all previous positions as County Coordinator for the counties of Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Citrus, Hamilton, LaFayette, Marion, Pasco, Pinellas, Seminole and Union counties that she held immediately prior to her removal from the project as directed in the final report of the Grievance Committee's final decision. The USGenWeb Project bylaws and the Grievance Committee Procedures clearly state that the decision of the Grievance Committee is binding upon all members of the USGenWeb Project, therefore Ms. Smith is not in compliance with the bylaws as Ms. Tornow has not been reinstated.

Finding: The AB was forced to take the action of delinking FLGenWeb in order to uphold the bylaws of the USGenWeb Project, Section VI, Subsection E which states:

"The Advisory Board shall also have the responsibility to remove links from the national website, as appropriate, to websites which fail to meet the established guidelines/standards for The USGenWeb Project or to websites which display inappropriate content. Coordinators of any websites found to be in non-compliance shall be notified of such and shall be given a period of two (2) weeks in which to bring their website into compliance. The two-week time limit shall be flexible based on justifiable reasons presented by the website coordinator."

Therefore, the USGenWeb Advisory Board, in a closed-session hearing of charges against Fran Smith, has found Ms. Smith to be responsible for each of the charges against her. It is the decision of the Advisory Board that

Beginning retroactive to May 12, 2010 the date of the FLGenWeb Resolution of Grievance <http://www.usgenweb.org/business/AB-05-2010.shtml#a73> , Ms. Smith will be considered "on probation" within the USGenWeb Project for a period of 5 years. She may not run for, serve, hold, or be appointed to any position higher than the Local Coordinator level in any state or special project, or the national project.

The resolution of the disciplinary hearing against Dennis Gries.

This resolution is hereby adopted, effective Wednesday, 16 June 2010.

The USGenWeb Advisory Board issues this finding in response to the charges brought against Mr. Gries relevant to Grievance 2009-08-15.

Charge: Refusal to participate in good faith in the mediation and arbitration phases of grievance 2009-08-15, filed by Ms. Laverne Tornow against six individual FLGenWeb board members, as demonstrated by attempts to introduce issues outside of the scope of the mediation and arbitration portions of the grievance, raising repeated objections to questions posed by both the mediator and the arbitrators and refusing to answer specific questions posed by the grievance committee team and the insistence that the USGenWeb Project's Grievance Process was not the proper venue to handle a grievance, that all grievances must be filed in a court of law in the state of Florida.

Finding: We find that the Grievance Committee reviewed concerns brought to the Committee by Mr. Gries and the Grievance Committee not only responded to each concern, but consulted the National Coordinator for clarification of procedures which state: "It shall be the responsibility of the parties to the dispute to raise the issue of bias or conflict by a member of the team. This shall be done privately to the mediator, or the committee member if the conflict is alleged against the mediator. All claims of bias or conflict must be raised prior to the beginning of the mediation process. If an objection should be raised to a team member, that member shall be dismissed and a new team member appointed without the necessity for any proof of bias or prejudice. The identity of the party raising the objection shall not be revealed to any team member. Once the team is seated and the process initiated, no further objection may be raised as to partiality, bias, or conflict, and a team member may only be removed on his or her own request."

Evidence presented clearly demonstrated that Mr. Gries stated that he would continue to reject any and all mediators that were assigned and once these hurdles appeared addressed Mr. Gries continued to make assertions that had previously been addressed within the confines of the above stated procedure and it was clearly demonstrated by presented evidence his actions to continue to dispute after the team began their work.

Charge: Repeated breaches of the confidentiality of the grievance, despite repeated warnings during both the mediation and arbitration phases of the grievance process by contacting those outside of the mediator, the arbitrators and the GC representative handling the grievance.

Finding: It is the Advisory Board's finding that multiple breaches occurred by multiple individuals party to this grievance and those breaches will be addressed by the Advisory Board separately.

Regardless of others' breaches of confidentiality, the evidence has clearly demonstrated that Mr. Gries mindfully and purposefully engaged in and originated confidentiality breaches and that his breaches were prohibited within the process and procedures where he was a named participant. In doing so, the process was compromised for all parties involved with the grievance.

Charge: Mr. Gries' insistence during the grievance process that he was not a member of the USGenWeb Project, despite being a member of the FLGenWeb Project, and as such, the USGenWeb Project's bylaws did not apply to him, and that the grievance process was an illegal attempt to circumvent the FL Corporate laws.

Finding: The Grievance procedures are a member approved USGenWeb Process in adherence with its bylaws. As FLGenWeb had no local procedure for grievances and was a member of the USGenWeb project as evidenced by their being linked to from the USGenWeb National site and their use of the USGenWeb logo, they are bound to the rules which that membership implies. Those rules allow for grievances by a USGenWeb Project member against another USGenWeb Project member located within the same State or Special Project when there is no local Grievance Procedure to follow in that State or Special Project. Furthermore, a grievant can file a grievance against one or more persons. There is no requirement that it be filed against an entity in the case of incorporation. The evidence presented indicated that Mr. Gries withdrew his statement that he/FLGenWeb was/were not a part of the USGenWeb Project as the grievance proceeded. He did not, however, drop the contention that the grievance must be handled in a court of law according to FL corporate law.

Therefore, The USGenWeb Advisory Board, in a closed-session hearing of charges against Dennis Gries, has found Mr. Gries to be responsible for each of the charges against him. It is the decision of the Advisory Board that he is hereby:

	Beginning retroactive to May 12, 2010 the date of the FLGenWeb Resolution of Grievance http://www.usgenweb.org/business/AB-05-2010.shtml#a73 , Mr. Gries will be considered "on probation" within the USGenWeb Project for a period of 5 years. He may not run for, serve, hold, or be appointed to any position higher than the Local Coordinator level in any state or special project, or the national project. AB Members voting "Accept": Ann Allen Geoghegan, Cyndie Enfinger, Dale Grimm, Denise Wells, Jeff Kemp, Larry Flesher, Les Shockey, Linda Lewis, Tina Vickery, Pauli Smith AB Members voting "Reject": Alice Allen, Colleen Pustola AB Members abstaining from the vote: Bill Oliver? AB Members not present at the hearing: W.
